The End of Computer Music

Something is deeply wrong with computer music

the unfinished possible

The purpose of the nerd (a person educated as intellectual working in office who does not know what to do with her/his life) is to never finish the work (to keep her/his job). Being in state of permanent updating of what is unfinished. But sold as it. Yes! Users are paying to use unfinished tools. A tool that creates problems in opposition of a tool to resolve problems. Let us make a comparison with food: imagine to be obliged to buy unfinished fruits and vegetables being unriped, eating them to not die of hunger, waiting being seek for the next upgrade? Until today, we are waiting almost 30 years for food to be riped. Something is wrong, isn't it?

With musical instrument, there is no upgrades or updates. The tool must be achieved, and useful to sound, and to sound various and deep. To be performed to create music. In opposition: a computer is always in a state of being upgraded and the programs updated stay never finished. Why? To keep alive the computer industry, to keep the nerd's activity, with no sense of life. Which has nothing to do with music, but with money.

Music with unfinished musical instrument does not work. Or works with unneeded unnecessary complications of the unfinished instrument. And computer music does not work without unnecessary complications: listenable in its mechanical digital synthesis sound. As others, musical programs are sold unfinished to wait and pay the update of what could be done, but never really do.

This conception of human activity, sustain the "paying society", a corruption, doing something else to do what you want to do, a society where you have to pay to be aloud to live (decently): a slavery society conducted by slaves sustain by salary: a pension any human deserves in "paying society".

But the computer and programs industry are in contradiction with the Internet network, which its foundation is: free sharing of knowledge between human beings: its first purpose now corrupted by property and payment making knowledge exchange not free or biased (by people convinced they know better than others). This huge amount of free corrupted knowledge in one hand and knowledge to be payed in second hand is the show of, of our believes which makes think we are intelligent: are we? to produce and maintain so much archives, and garbage by fear of death? This book will end with my death (in few years). Dead, I will not pay any more the host to aloud my web site public. My thoughts will be eaten and digest by others, and used or not to try to make human species less stupid to put itself and other living beings in danger (in domination by loosing selfgoverment).

But to access the network you have to pay a provider (+ the upgraded hardware equipment) which is in contradiction with the original free will being connected. But since the beginning we are connected electronically for what? Since the beginning of Internet my major activity is to send and receive emails: letters. Instantaneous videophone does not work yet to have non interrupted conversation, and people feel uncomfortable being seen in privacy. This technology is only useful for people far away from each other (same as telephone). Friends and family around, we do not need communication technology.

Is it useful to speak about the 2 abusive companies monopoly? At the next "global" starvation, they will be executed. By people supporting buying using their operating system and computers. Since the free operating system Linux in 1993, it does not exist free adapted computers to run it: means Linux as all others are supported the OS duopoly expenses. It never exists any OS for music.

Computer industry is in contradiction with music. Music share for free the sonic mankind gestures active being alive. Computer (with music) industry does not. The unfinished tools keep the computer industry profit real. From 1990s I bought 8 computers, 10 screens, 9 modems, 6 MIDI keyboards, scanners, tablets, printers, and too many softwares to update (forced by obsolescence) all garbage, since 1979 I have my same guitar. The amount of sold useless computer product goes beyond what was expected. Computer became the main tool of human activity and garbage. Everybody nowadays face a screen. I am writing this text with a computer I will publish with the an other connected computer in the Internet network in my website for you to read it, copy it, transform it. Trapped.

The permanent payment to upgrade to update what you already paid, and will pay again to keep it by paying the next upgrade update is a form of voluntary slavery which are exhausted and poisoned the unique and vital human resources of the Earth: water and food. Since the 90s of XX century, the amount of useless computers and peripherals garbage of electronic unfinished tools is absolutely huge compare to resources balance (what one needs as materials to do it). Useless electronic equipment (like cars and other) are stored in Africa (and India), where are living the most unrespected human being on Earth, in gigantic garbage storage where the pollution and illness of the worker are ignored by the international "well thinking" UNcommunity of richest countries users. The money benefit are so colossal that no information are communicate about this human scorn. Using a disposable computer (where the summit is the "laptop" defeated by the "iPad" and other "cellphone-computer-game-camera-walkman-tv" unrefurbishable because the updated programs ask for more powerful machine you need to buy if you want to use the updated software) contribute to small acts of Earth death multiplied by billion of users = killers. An irresponsible act to put our children in misery. The next generation will live starving in our garbages of useless electronic equipment which will collapse the network becoming secondary, and unnecessary. The utopia (the pipe dream) of unlimited cybernetics is living its beginning of its end, it's done: the consequences of brain and body pollution by planetary colossal garbage had started the misery of all species. By scorn.

Calculators has to restart an healthy proposal where nobody can take the power to slave anybody and to kill other species to get raw materials: plastic comes from petrol, and metal, gold, lithium, copper, etc., from mines. The series of wars in Afghanistan is to control their rich mines, nothing else. People being nerds will not die by making achieved programs tools to be full used. In contrary, it will stop the economical hegemony which kill our planet and ourselves being dependent to stay alive.

Computer's sounds sound as computer is what nobody expected. At the beginning. A series of clicks. Computer is a tool for (nowadays) film, a tool to record, to edit, to add effects, but not to play music. Its time is not real, its calculations are too simple. Bio+metrics does not work.

A musical instrument with age become better, a computer with age become obsolete. The amount of electronic equipment I acquired and paid, and clicks since 1990 is incomparable to what a musical instrument can give. One takes, the another gives. The computer industry (and all industry in general) is the perfect tool for an economic hegemonic dictatorship as we are living: a perfect tool to destroy our vital resources with the strong false belief of permanent abundance: which is not the state of eternal happiness and enjoyment.

The worst is: everybody knows, what I just say.
